Welcome!

It's all go in soapland at the moment – and it's certainly keeping us busy! From Corrie's wedding crash drama to Kim Tate's rebirth – and Joe Tate's shock death! – we're struggling to cram it all into the magazine right now.

We've loved the crash-bang-wallop of all those plotlines, but over on EastEnders, the episode

"I love that our soaps can tell such different stories" showing us both sides in the wake of Ruby's rape was as gripping as it was important. Last, but certainly not least, the Hollyoaks episode revealing the inner turmoil of Cleo's bulimia was raw and powerful. I love that our soaps can tell such different, but equally brilliant, stories.

While this drama is the lifeblood of Inside Soap, we're also being kept busy with two huge events. The Inside Soap Awards are nearly here – we name your final four favourites on p30 – and next week, we celebrate an amazing 1,000 issues! Blimey, I feel old!

HANDS OFF MY SON!

KAREN IS SHOCKED, APPALLED AND DISGUSTED TO SEE
SHARON SNOGGING KEANU
IN THE VIC'S ALLEYWAY...

The mother of all showdowns kicks off in Walford this week, when livid Karen storms over to the Mitchells' house and tears into Sharon – after learning that she has been sleeping with Keanu!

While the affair teeters on the verge of exposure, the secret lovers agree not to be seen together in public, especially when Sharon learns that her husband Phil has been in touch with her friends in the Square. However, Sharon and Keanu just can't keep their hands off each other as they steal a passionate clinch in the alleyway of the Vic – only for horrified Karen to walk past and see them...

Karen can't believe what her eyes are seeing!

"Karen has no clue that Keanu is seeing a married woman – and Sharon is the last person she would expect!" exclaims star Lorraine Stanley, who plays the tough Taylor mum. "When she sees them kissing, it comes as a complete shock to her."

Karen isn't the only person who knows about the affair, as the lovers continue to be tormented by a mystery blackmailer. But the extortionist is the least of their worries after Karen confronts her son, and demands to know what he's playing at.

"Karen thinks it's disgusting," explains Lorraine. "Sharon is nearly 50 years old, whereas Keanu is only 19! At the end of the day, she is a married woman. Karen has morals, and she doesn't think it's right!"

Keanu is still worried about the blackmailer, so he comes up with a plan

“However, I think Karen is more worried about Phil and what he’ll do to her son if he finds out,” continues the star. “She knows his reputation, and worries for Keanu on that level more than anything.”

With his mum all fired-up and begging him to end his sordid affair, Keanu pleads with her to stay out of it. But quite frankly, there’s more chance of Pat Butcher returning from the dead than that happening – and Karen soon makes a beeline for Sharon to tell her exactly what she thinks!

“Karen doesn’t hold back – she absolutely rinses Sharon,” grimaces Lorraine. “She

Sharon can do nothing but stand there and take every single insult Karen flings at her marches into the house and goes off her nut! It’s not a violent exchange, but Karen makes it clear how she feels, and all Sharon can really do is let Karen say her piece, as she knows that she’s in the wrong. She doesn’t put up much of a fight – though she doesn’t really have the chance!”

Scared for her son’s safety, Karen pleads with Sharon to end the fling before the situation spirals out of control completely – and later Sharon comes to a decision.

Meanwhile, Keanu is on the hunt for the mystery blackmailer and, after a conversation with Jay, he sets a trap to expose the culprit's identity. However, even if he and Sharon do manage to find out who it is who's been threatening them, will Keanu do as his mother says and stay away from his older woman?

"Every mother thinks her kids are going to listen, but whether they actually do or not is another matter!" chuckles Lorraine. "Maybe he'll take Karen's words on board for a day – but this is soap. I'll be very surprised if Keanu lets this go!"

Laura-Jayne Tyler

"I'd have exactly the same feelings as Karen – I'd be livid!"

Lorraine gives us her take on the soap affair that has rocked the nation...

What did you think when you first heard about Keanu and Sharon's affair?

I laughed, as I know Tish [Dean, who plays Sharon] and I love her to bits – so I just thought, 'Oh my God, she is going to have the time of her life!' He's a good-looking guy, my son! Tish is a complete professional, of course, but I bet she's had a good day at work! [laughs]

How is Danny [Walters, aka Keanu] coping with being thrust into such a saucy story with a legend like Sharon?

I know, she is the Queen of soap! He's such a good guy, is Danny. He is completely professional, really mature for his age and I think he's handling it very well. I don't think Danny's intimidated at all as he's a strong actor.

What was it like filming the scene where Karen confronts Sharon?

Oh, so funny! We laughed to the point where I could not look her in the eye. It took us a few takes when Karen comes bowling into the house to have a go at her. I think I fluffed a few lines and we just giggled! But then we got down to it, did it, and it was great. I love Tish. We wish that we worked more together.

You've joked before that Karen might fancy her chances with Phil, to get her revenge on Sharon. Do you still like the sound of that idea?

Yeah, I said that and then it was all in the papers with a picture of me and Phil – and underneath it said that we look alike! That was brilliant, actually. Nothing that I know about is going to happen between Karen and Phil, but I still think it's a great idea. Hey, I'm just an actor, I don't write it! I'd love to work with Steve [McFadden, who plays Phil] but that's because I rate him as an actor. I'm not sure Phil would scrape the barrel for Karen, though!

If you found yourself in Karen's shoes, how do you think you would have dealt with this situation?

I would probably act similar in that it's morally wrong and I would try to stop it – but maybe I wouldn't be as aggressive. I might be a bit more controlled with it, yet I'd still have the same feelings – I'd be livid! It's more about Sharon being married. It's not so much an age thing for me. It would be about the fact that she's married and that is just wrong. I'd have a fear of Phil too, as he's no pushover. I'd be worried for Keanu. Ultimately, Phil would batter him!

Goodbye, our beautiful Grace

PADDY AND CHAS LAY THEIR DAUGHTER TO REST...

The grieving parents steel themselves for their baby girl's final goodbye

It's time to say a final farewell to Grace this week, when Paddy and Chas bravely attend their baby girl's funeral.

The devastated parents are struggling to cope with their grief in the wake of Grace's death – especially as they only shared a short, precious time with their tragic daughter. Her loss has changed their lives forever – so it's with heavy hearts that they and their loved ones prepare to pay their last respects.

"No parent should ever have to bury their child, it's an unimaginable horror," says our Emmerdale spy. "They've both been strong throughout the pregnancy and Grace's brief life. It's important to say a proper goodbye to her, and her funeral is a chance for Chas and Paddy to honour their baby and grieve properly."

As she gets ready for the tough day ahead, Chas takes a moment alone to go through the memory box that she and Paddy made for their daughter.

"The funeral is for Chas and Paddy to honour their baby..."

All of the locals provide a sense of respect and support

Seeing those treasured items is a comfort to Chas, but it also brings her to tears – and while she struggles to maintain her composure, Cain arrives.

He wasn't able to be there when Grace was born and missed out on meeting his tiny niece. It's an incredibly difficult moment as Cain sees just how destroyed his sister is by what's happened – and after they talk, he worries that Chas isn't on board with the plans Paddy has made for Grace's funeral.

"Paddy has done practical things for Grace because that's what he's good at, and it's his way of coping," explains our spy. "Inevitably, he and Chas were going to handle losing their daughter differently, but she's so numb, she almost can't face the funeral. She needs to say goodbye, yet she's not sure how much faith she has that it will do Grace justice."

However, Chas needn't have worried – when the village turns out to show her and Paddy how much they care. It's more than Chas and Paddy can bear as they see the tiny coffin, and the enormity of this moment crashes down on them. They've stayed together through every step of Grace's traumatic journey – and now is the time to be more united than ever.

But confronted with so much sadness, can the devastated couple get through this terrible day?

Kate White

The actors have been taken aback by the glowing reception...

Emmerdale stars Lucy Pargeter and Dominic Brunt took to Twitter recently to thank fans for their huge reaction to Chas and Paddy's tragic story.

They were both blindsided by the response to the episode where Grace was born, and the fantasy sequences that showed what their lives could have been like if she had survived.

"Dear all – Just looked at Twitter, I'm seriously overwhelmed," wrote Dominic. "I'm filming in the middle of a field in the freezing rain, so I haven't seen the episode yet. I'll read every single post when I get inside. Thank you thank you thank you thank you thank you."

Meanwhile, Lucy shared, "I just want to say a massive thank you to everyone who has watched tonight's ep. I was cleaning sick up off my bedroom floor from one of the #twirls [her twin girls] at the time, but knowing what was going on on-screen, I was thankful to be doing it, if that makes sense. I hope it was respectful of anyone who has been through anything similar and it makes people hold their children close and be thankful for the gift we have been given."

Ken demands that Sinead comes clean!

CAN SHE FIND THE WORDS TO TELL DANIEL THE TRUTH ABOUT HER CANCER?

Ken piles the pressure on to Sinead this week, imploring her to tell Daniel the truth about her cervical cancer diagnosis. However, when Daniel calls into the café, he finds Sinead in tears, and demands to know what Ken has done to upset her!

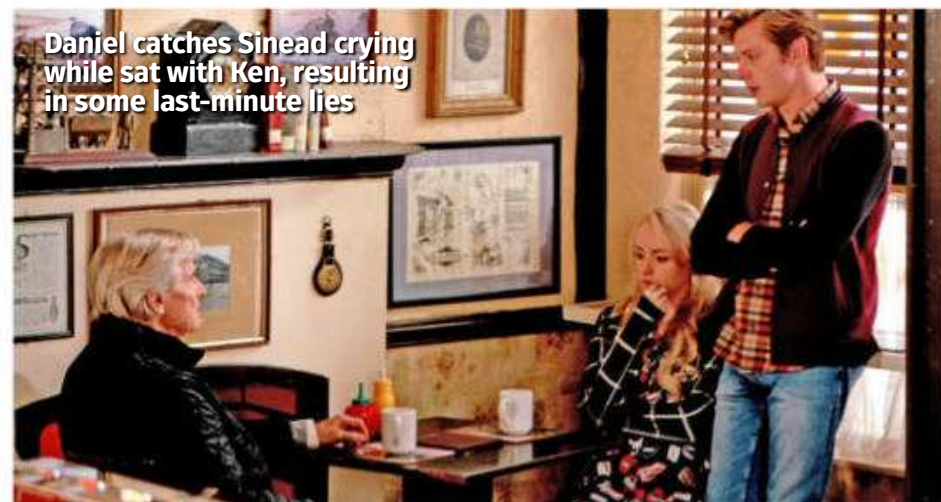

Ken is put in an impossible situation when he has to choose between respecting Sinead's wishes, or letting his son know about his wife's true condition. Although he keeps quiet for now, he begs Sinead to tell the truth, or else things will be worse in the long run. Struggling to carry his burden, Ken turns to Claudia, confiding in her that Sinead has cancer, but is unable to let Daniel know.

Later, Sinead suffers a dizzy spell, resulting in Daniel telling Ken that he's worried about his wife's wellbeing. Will Ken crack and tell his son what he knows?

Inside Soap caught up with actor William Roache (aka Ken) to find out how his alter ego is coping with his no-win dilemma...

Hello, Bill! Now Daniel and Sinead are married and expecting a baby, is Ken happy for them?

Yes, after the trials and tribulations with Daniel's mother, he's happy that Daniel has found love. Everything is looking rosy... but this is Coronation Street!

Daniel catches Sinead crying while sat with Ken, resulting in some last-minute lies Sinead has a funny turn on her way to work - will Daniel realise what's wrong?

Considering the bad blood between them, has Ken resolved any ill feelings between him and Sinead?

Yes. Last year, Ken did this terrible thing and virtually persuaded Sinead to have an abortion, which was awful. It would be understandable if Sinead never forgave him, but they have repaired things.

Does Ken now accept that Daniel and Sinead are right for each other?

Totally! Ken was worried that Daniel would never find happiness, so he's delighted to see that Sinead has given him some balance. He's completely reversed all his opinions on Sinead, and he's grown very fond of her.

How does Ken react when Sinead breaks down and tells him what she's going through?

Sinead doesn't confide in him voluntarily – he puts her in a position where she has to tell him. He becomes her confidant, even though it wasn't through choice.

FUN KEN!

Bill says he loves playing the comedy moments...

There's more drama for Ken this week, when Audrey tells him that she is the subject of his salacious tales from the past! The budding author tells her that he got his inspiration from Claudia's anecdotes, but he didn't realise the person she was talking about was Audrey!

"I love playing the drama and all the big scenes with the Barlows, though the comedy has been good to do too!" chuckles Bill. "After a full day, it lifts your mood. It's really nice to do."

After Ken's revelation, Audrey soon turns her fury on Claudia. Will Ken be able to calm the feud between the two ladies?

"Rula [Lenska, who plays Claudia] is lovely," shares Bill. "I'm so lucky with the people I work with, and she's one of them. I love playing these lighter stories with Claudia and Audrey – the flirtations between them and the jealousies! Whether there will be a long-term relationship between Claudia and Ken, I'm not so sure..."

Ken wants to do the honourable thing – but this is his son's life too

What does Ken think Sinead should do?

He wants her to talk to Daniel. He says, "You must tell him, you can't keep him out of this." But Sinead says, "It's my baby, my body, my cancer". She begs Ken to keep quiet, though it's really difficult for him. He wants to do the honourable thing, yet this is his son's life.

Are Ken's loyalties torn?

Completely! All his instincts are saying to tell Daniel, but he also wants to honour Sinead's feelings. It's a terrible dilemma. She has cervical cancer and has to choose whether to have the full treatment and terminate her pregnancy, or to have a more gentle treatment where the baby might survive and so could she. But that's a massive risk. It has to be her choice, yet whatever Ken does now will upset someone. It's heartbreaking.

How would Daniel feel if he finds out Ken kept quiet about this?

I would say that if Ken keeps this from Daniel, it could completely shatter their relationship forever!

Ste & Harry's stormy wedding!

DARKNESS DESCENDS ON THE BOYS' BIG DAY...

Harry and Ste's dream wedding day is finally here this week – but in usual Hollyoaks style, it's set to be a nightmare! So will spurned lover James ruin the occasion? Or are Ste and Harry destined to be?

While the village is decorated for the wedding, it seems the only thing that isn't ready is one of the grooms – with Harry still on the fence about marrying Ste...

"Harry's in two minds," explains Parry Glasspool, who plays him. "He's still waiting for James to say the magic words. In a way, he really hopes that James will come in to break it all up, so he doesn't have to go through with it! Harry is very confused."

It seems Harry may get his wish, though, as James – bitter at being Harry's dirty secret – decides to sabotage the wedding! With Romeo's help, James plots to expose Harry's affair by planting photos of himself and Harry kissing in the guests' gift bags. But if their secret is exposed, Harry knows it's a big risk – and it'll cause a lot of heartache.

"The problem is, Harry's not just losing Ste, he's losing Leah and Lucas too," sighs Parry. "And there's the whole Dee Dee situation – he doesn't want to break it off with Ste when Dee Dee's dying. Everything's really hard for the family, so Harry's just thinking of all these different things."

Harry and James have become pros at sneaking around, with only a select few knowing about their relationship. But with whom does Harry's heart really lie?

"Harry must have feelings for James if he's willing to break off the wedding," points out Parry. "Just think of everything he's going to be leaving behind – he's definitely passionate about James."

However, when it comes to the crunch, he just can't bring himself to break Ste's heart. So in front of the whole village, Ste and Harry get hitched! But Parry reckons that neither of Harry's options are good ones.

"Probably neither are the healthiest of relationships," laughs Parry. "One's just for sex – and the other's a recovering drug addict!"

"Harry is very confused – everything is really hard..."

Despite the ceremony running smoothly, there's a storm brewing – literally as well as figuratively, with freak weather bringing chaos to the area – which spells trouble for the newly-weds.

"I was interested to see how it was going to go down," Parry tells us. "I don't usually ask about upcoming storylines, because I like to see for myself. But it's nice to have a little concentrated week for it all to come to a head."

Will Ste and Harry make it to their honeymoon? Or will divorce papers be served before the cake is cut?

Alice Penwill

Lucas and Leah are there to see their dad get hitched

HURRICANE SINEAD!

The climax of this week's Hollyoaks sees the village hit by a major storm – in more ways than one! The episodes will see the return of actress Stephanie Davis as Sinead, who mothered a child with groom Ste. But while Parry is sworn to secrecy about what Sinead's return will mean for the less-than-happy couple, he can reveal how it was to appear in the blustery episodes...

"The storm was great to film!" confesses the star. "We were working until 4am – I quite like having night shoots, it feels like you're doing something really intense. You have the rain machines coming down, and then there's the massive wind machines too."

Although Parry didn't have any major stunts to do during filming, some of the scenes still had their difficulties.

"We were trying to do the scenes, but we couldn't really hear each other," he explains. "Everything's so loud, you can't even hear yourself talking! I loved doing it, although I wasn't saying that at the end of the day when I was freezing! But it was a really good experience."

You may kiss the groom! But how long will these two be happy for?

KIM: THE DRAMA IS ONLY JUST BEGINNING!

Claire King will make a full-time return to the Dales...

Emmerdale viewers can rest assured that prison isn't going to stand in the way of Kim Tate's epic return to Home Farm – as Inside Soap can confirm that she will return as a regular character next year!

“Although Kim's initial comeback was fleeting, she caused so much mischief and chaos that we couldn't resist bringing her back,” explains the soap's executive producer, Jane Hall. “Ms Tate is just getting warmed up for an explosive 2019, that will see her hell-bent on getting exactly what – and who – she wants.”

After ordering the death of Joe Tate and being flung over a balcony at the hands of Faith, Kim was sent straight back to jail as the police learned that she'd breached the terms of her early release. Her last instruction to Graham was for him to track down her estranged son James Tate – so it sounds as if we can expect to meet him when Kim is freed in six months' time...

It was a flying visit this time – but Kim will be back in 2019

“He's bound to be young, glamorous and gorgeous – the bosses are going to want to bring in that kind of character to replace Ned [Porteous, who played Joe], aren't they?” muses actress Claire King, who plays Kim. “He'll be a good-looking boy!”

And what about Kim's attempted murderer, Faith? Should she be worried for her own safety, if Kim finds out that she was the Dingle who shoved her?

“Definitely!” grins Claire. “I don't think Kim will be leaving it at that, do you?”

It's never the end unless you've seen a corpse in the ground...

While we know that Kim will definitely be back, there's still the question of whether we'll see Joe Tate again. Debbie's fiancé never made it to their wedding after an altercation with her father Cain resulted in a nasty blow to the head, which Graham confirmed had killed him. However, when Joe's right-hand-man went to bury his friend, Joe's hand twitched – and we don't really know if Graham finished the job or not. Inside Soap spoke to stars Ned Porteous (Joe), Jeff Hordley (Cain) and Charley Webb (Debbie) to try to shed some light...

Firstly, Ned – what a shocking turn of events for you! How did you feel filming those last moments?

Ned It was tremendously exciting, and I just focussed on producing some really good final scenes. I didn't have time to think about the fact that I was leaving, though, so maybe I wasn't as prepared for that. Everyone was so lovely on my last day that it was a little emotional!

So Joe really is brown bread?

Ned Well supposedly, but it wasn't shown – so technically you don't know what happened for sure, and it is ambiguous! Is he dead? Perhaps, but it's not certain. Will Graham bring him back? Who knows!

Graham never wanted to kill Joe, so could he be hiding him...?

Jeff ...In a special military hospital?
Charley We actually don't know. But if he is dead, it won't have been Cain who killed him. Joe's either alive, or Graham shot him!

If that is the case, Jeff, how will Cain react when he finds out that Graham is playing him?

Jeff I think the writers are setting up Cain and Graham to circle one another. They're similar beasts so it's a great story – but as to who'd come out alive is anyone's guess!

How do you think Debbie will feel if she finds out that Joe didn't leave her – and that her dad may have played a part in his death?

Jeff It'll definitely change her relationship with Cain. Maybe she could have dealt with the truth if he'd told her, but he didn't. She might kill him!

RUBY'S FRESH AGONY!

Louisa Lytton explains that her character's nightmare is far from over...

EASTENDERS

EastEnders viewers and the charity Rape Crisis have heaped praise on the soap for the powerful episodes that saw Ruby realise that she had been raped. Star Louisa Lytton, who plays Ruby, has spoken about the response she has had from audience members who have had similar experiences...

"I had loads of people contact me directly on social media saying, 'This is the closure I've needed for so long'," shares the actress. "I received messages that said, 'This incident happened to me 10 years ago and I questioned whether it was rape or not, and this episode has confirmed to me that in fact it was'."

The plot continues now that Ruby has reported the incident to the police. However, it's the picture of Ruby kissing Matt that sees Martin and Stacey question Ruby's story...

"The point of this story is to open the conversation for men and women and educate them," explains Louisa. "It is important that it's done right."

Even Stacey isn't quite sure what to think

Jude breaks Mary's heart!

SHE SEES HER BELOVED SON FOR WHO HE REALLY IS...

CORONATION STREET | ITV MONDAY

The lies just keep on coming out of Jude's mouth

There's horror for Mary this week, when Jude shows his true colours during a devastating showdown!

The desperate fella has been lying for weeks, pretending to be the one who saved Roy from certain death and claiming the rewards of 'his' efforts. Worse still, he's also been telling her and his wife Angie that he's enrolled on a paramedics' course and plans to start a new career. But his lies unravel after Mary proves the whole thing is a sham, so she confronts deceitful Jude.

"Nobody wants to believe the worst about their child, but Mary's about to see the dark side of Jude," warns our Corrie insider. "He's a desperate man and will do anything to save his marriage to Angie. For years, he spun a web of lies about his work as a marine biologist, so he's used to keeping up a façade. Even Mary won't stand in his way."

Warning bells start to ring for Mary as Yasmeen is shocked to hear that Jude has been offered a place at university to train as a paramedic. She explains that he fainted at the sight of blood, which confuses Mary. Things become clearer after the university Jude is allegedly attending rings his mobile and Mary picks up. She's shocked to discover that he walked out on the exam!

Mary is then forced to hold her tongue when a journalist from the Good Samaritan

Awards comes to interview Jude and Roy about what happened on that fateful day. Despite knowing that Ali was the one who saved Roy, Jude maintains the story, and Mary feels ashamed to see him lie so easily. And when she discovers the £5,000 cheque that grateful Roy gave Jude to fund his training, Mary realises he's willing to swindle one of her dearest friends, so she tells him that she will reveal all!

"Jude will do anything to save his marriage!"

"Jude won't let the truth out without a fight," explains our spy. "He has to keep Mary quiet, or his marriage will be over! Jude loves his mum, but she's standing between him and getting his life back. He's got to get her on side."

Mary now faces losing Jude all over again. How will their showdown play out?

Will furious Hayley confess her secret?

SHE'S UPSET AS HER FAMILY INTERFERES AGAIN...

The Slaters rally round Hayley this week, supporting their pregnant relative who recently threatened to end her own life. However, their kindly interjections make things worse – with Hayley moving out!

Although Jean has done her best to give encouragement to Hayley, the other family members haven't realised that their relative has been feeling so tormented. That all changed, though, after the young woman made her way to the edge of a balcony at an abandoned block of flats...

"Obviously these pictures show that Hayley is alive after the incident, but her life will still be a misery if Kat finds out that the baby's father is Alfie!" reveals our Walford spy. "Hayley feels so guilty, she's a hair's breadth from confessing, even though it would ruin everything!"

Back in Albert Square, Jean encourages the Slaters to buy things for the baby. However, as far as Hayley is concerned, Jean's efforts are completely undermined by the arrival of a social worker, who turns up at the house to talk to her about her recent ordeal.

"This is probably the worst thing that could happen right now," groans our mole. "Hayley is already feeling emotional and fragile, and she can barely cope with talking to her own family – so having to open up to a total stranger goes beyond the pale, and she just sees red! She angrily turns on Jean, assuming that she was the one

This is a reality check for Hayley – this is actually happening!"

Kat grits her teeth, oblivious that Hayley is biting her tongue about her babydaddy tries to reason with Kat about her attitude towards Hayley, though Kat isn't having any of it. Stacey tries to intercede, making excuses for Kat's behaviour, but to no avail.

Despite Stacey and Jean's support, Hayley later comes to a huge decision. But what could it be? And whose lives will it directly impact?

Tom Spilsbury

HAYLEY'S SALVATION?

Baby Harley manages to inspire her...

After her latest family bust-up, Hayley goes to stay at the Ahmeds', having recently become chummy with Mariam. And once Hayley has recovered from her run-in with Kat, she starts to bond with little Harley, the baby fostered by Mariam and Arshad.

Despite her own fears about being a mother, Hayley realises that she has a connection with the young boy, and the two of them spend a fun afternoon together. However, the time has come for Harley to be reunited with his biological mother, Chloe – forcing Mariam and Arshad to bid a

Will this prove to Hayley that she too has what it takes to be a great mum?

who called for outside help. But it was actually Kat who stuck her nose in – and when she finds out, Hayley is incandescent with rage! The two women end up in a huge row – will Hayley blurt out her shameful secret in the heat of the moment?"

Once things have calmed down a little, Jean does her best to reassure Hayley. However, just when it seems that her words might be doing some good, the pair are thrown into complete panic, as Hayley's contractions start!

"This is a reality check for Hayley," exclaims our source. "As she rushes to the hospital, the penny finally drops that this is actually happening. And to complicate things further, Jean makes a huge spur-of-the-moment decision that will change everything!"

INSIDE SCOOP

Jimmy and Kerry think Bernice is getting carried away with Daz – but little do they realise!

Kerry isn't happy when she realises Bernice is a love cheat!

EMMERDALE | ITV MONDAY

Bernice's sexy secret blown!

SHE'S HORRIFIED AS HER SAUCY FLING IS DISCOVERED...

Bernice is left with a lot of explaining to do this week – as she's caught sneaking Dr Cavanagh back to the salon for a steamy snogging session!

Kerry and Jimmy are in the middle of a covert spray-tanning appointment when Bernice comes stumbling in, oblivious, smooching with her secret lover. Subsequently, Jimmy and Kerry make a mortified exit, assuming the mystery man must be Bernice's boyfriend Daz – but when he's the first person they see as they take cover in the Woolpack, the truth of Bernice's duplicity is shockingly revealed...

"Bernice has no idea that Kerry and Jimmy are in the salon!" admits Sam Giles, who plays Bernice. "She drags Liam off upstairs and doesn't notice them. She's completely bowled over by lust! She's so attracted by Liam's doctor status, plus he's tall and rather dashing. So while she's got these honourable intentions towards Daz, things aren't quite going to plan."

Indeed, Daz has no idea that Bernice has been carrying on with the local medic for several weeks. And while she's supposedly been trying to let him down gently, Bernice still hasn't managed to get the deed done...

"She does want to do the right thing by Daz," sighs Sam. "But she's aware of how vulnerable he is and doesn't want to hurt him – even though it's inevitable! Every time she goes to finish it, something else happens to stop her. Just before this particular moment with Liam, she once again tries to end things with Daz.

"But then she finds out his friend has died, and she's upset she still hasn't been able to do it, so she calls Liam. He starts telling her how much she means to him – the temptation is too great – so that's why she's dragging him into the salon for some passion!"

While Kerry and Jimmy are clueless as to the identity of Bernice's secret lover, the knowledge that she's doing the dirty on Daz outrages Kerry, whose partner is Daz's brother Dan. And typically, she wastes no time in launching both barrels at horrified Bernice.

Kerry is disgusted with Bernice... and gives her an ultimatum!"

OOH, MATRON!

Sam reveals that her co-star Jonny McPherson (aka Liam) has an amusing bedside manner...

"It's great fun working with Jonny – he has a daft sense of humour," grins the star.

"Jonny seems posh on the outside, but actually he has a mouth and mind like the Carry On star Kenneth Williams! I'm very lucky, because we do laugh a lot..."

"Kerry is really cross and disgusted with Bernice," shares Sam. "She gives Bernice an ultimatum – but you'll have to wait and see what the outcome will be! While Bernice has been hurt by men in the past, I'm afraid that she has also cheated before – with her sister Nicola's ex-fiancé Carlos – and cheating is always going to cause problems. It can get very messy, and sometimes, there's no going back..."

As to whether Bernice will take the opportunity to make a clean break from Daz and settle down with Dr Liam, Sam can't say. But she's also not sure whether Bernice might finally have a happy-ever-after in store...

"Bernice would definitely fancy herself as a doctor's wife," considers Sam. "And she's really enjoyed being pursued by Liam. They probably have more in common than she and Daz do, and the way he's been wooing her is really appealing to Bernice."

"But it's important to have a soap character who just doesn't find long-lasting happiness romantically. There are so many single people out there who are still kissing frogs, so they need a character to identify with!"

Heartbreak for Chesney

HE'S GUTTED WHEN GEMMA
SNOGS HER MATE SPIKE...

CORONATION STREET | ITV WEDNESDAY

The depth of Chesney's feelings for close pal Gemma are made clear this week, after he's horrified to see her kissing her mate Spike right in front of him!

Ches has arranged to meet Gemma in the Bistro, hoping that romance might finally blossom. So when he sees Gemma rushing into Spike's arms and snogging his face off, the poor bloke reckons that he doesn't stand a chance...

"It's soul-destroying for Chesney!" sighs Sam Aston, who plays him. "He's messed up completely, because when he asks Gemma out, he makes it sound like it's just about mates meeting up for a drink. But then he arrives at the Bistro in a velvet jacket, hair combed over and carrying flowers. He's all set for a date, because it's a moment that's been coming for ages."

"Chesney has messed up completely – it's soul-destroying"

Although Chesney and Gemma have been best mates for months, having bonded working in the kebab shop, Ches has struggled to take their friendship to the next level.

"Chesney has had Gemma's back from day one," says Sam. "Even when he was with Sinead, people would ask what was going on with Ches and Gemma. At first it was just a case of them getting on really well. Chesney is protective of Gemma because neither have many people in their lives. She's fun, and they have a laugh – he has a real soft spot for her."

Fortunately, Chesney has Emma by his side as the reality of Gemma's relationship with Spike hits home. And, hoping to save Ches some of his embarrassment, she steps in and offers to make a foursome for dinner.

"Emma volunteers to join them, so Chesney just goes with it," shares Sam. "But she really hams it up, and Ches is dying inside. He also takes an instant dislike to Spike, as he's rude, so the whole thing is a nightmare for him!"

While it's obvious that Emma has her eye on Chesney, it also soon transpires that Gemma fancies Ches as much as he fancies her! But when will they finally make their feelings clear and get it together?

You can say that again!

OUR FAVOURITE RECENT SOAP QUOTES...

"I'd quite like a holiday. Actually, I've always fancied Morocco. I think it's the kidney getting homesick."

We like the idea that there is a part of Tracy forever yearning for the souks of Marrakech.

"Hate, hurt, revenge... Seems like a fitting end to a party at Home Farm. What is it about that big, stupid house? It lulls people into thinking they're going to be all right. That everything's going to turn out fine... But the place is cursed."

The nerve of it! It's not that the place is cursed, it's that there's a mad woman pushing people off balconies. Eh, Faith?

"After a couple of free cocktails, this lot will drink petrol if it's got an olive in it."

Graham's clearly heard all about the Inside Soap Awards.

"I've got nowt against the Holy Ghost and all that. I've always thought he'd make a good character in a superhero film. But Daniel definitely said no God, he wants it a bit more..."

"Civil."

"Oh aye, yeah, I'll definitely keep it friendly."

"Matt raped you. He raped you, and the others just let it happen."

"You didn't say yes."

This affecting storyline was perfectly summed up in one simple yet powerful exchange.

"But I didn't say no."

"This doesn't have to be the end... I think deep down you still care about me, maybe even still love me? Maybe we can screw some money out of someone else and put this behind us."

"Have you no self-respect?"

"I love you! No one else does!"

We almost feel sorry for Hannah. She clearly has some serious daddy issues!

"They've always been chasing one another's tails, but the timing has never worked," admits Sam. "Chesney's not been on many dates, so this is uncharted territory for him. He definitely needs a few dating tips, because he's lousy at it!"

Debbie's lawyer boosts her spirits – before cruelly dashing them

EMMERDALE | ITV FRIDAY

Debbie's jail hell!

SHE'S FACING A BLEAK FUTURE...

There's more bad news for Debbie this week, as she's warned that she could be sentenced to five years in prison.

While her daughter Sarah has undergone heart transplant surgery, devastated Debbie has had an agonising wait in police custody – and she can't believe how much has gone on since Joe asked her to marry him in the hospital chapel just a couple of weeks ago.

Debbie has had to face the consequences of her crimes for being indirectly responsible for the acid attack on Ross. It was Joe's efforts in paying off Simon the drug dealer that kept her safe for months – but now that he's disappeared, how can Debbie spend five years inside when her kids need her so badly?

"All Debbie wants is to be free, so she can be by Sarah's side and try to get her through this latest nightmare," says our Dales spy. "It hasn't just been Debbie's heart broken by Joe going AWOL – Sarah has suffered terribly too. Amid all that shock, Sarah has gone under the knife, and she needs support more than anything."

Debbie is convinced that Joe jilted her after lying about his true circumstances. But the real story saw her dad Cain knock him out with a near-fatal punch, before Kim Tate's henchman Graham finished the job. Joe didn't want to leave Debbie, and it cost him his life – yet she may never discover any of that while Graham and Cain continue to keep their terrible secret.

The focus now is getting Debbie out of jail, but that's tricky when she's given a full confession. However, while the judge at her plea hearing grants her bail, there's bad news on the way as she's told the sentence could be harsh.

"Even the world's most talented brief can't talk Debbie out of this one," muses our insider. "She has admitted it Debbie has taken a huge gamble – this could wreck her life!"

EMMERDALE | ITV THURSDAY

Let's get outta here!

WILL REBECCA LEAVE THE VILLAGE WITH ROSS?

Rebbecca faces a big decision this week – as Ross invites her to leave Emmerdale with him.

Both of the lovers have been through the mill while living in the village, and Ross believes it's high time that they made a change.

His invitation comes when Rebecca gets a nasty surprise on her birthday – a card from psycho killer nephew Lachlan. After everything he did to her, Rebecca can't believe that Lachlan would get in touch and she's left furious by his twisted gesture. She rants to Ross about how the sick individual who murdered her family, held her captive and almost killed her too, is now wishing her 'Happy Birthday' – and swears that if she could, she'd kill him herself.

Having been through his own revenge nightmare with acid attacker Simon, Ross

Ross wants to have a fresh start with Rebecca knows all too well where Rebecca is coming from. But he's also aware that her anger will only lead to more hurt and misery. So instead, he muses that they've both had a terrible time and they need a change of scenery – and asks Rebecca to consider leaving with him.

But given that they both have young sons who live there, can the traumatised duo really go without breaking some hearts in the process?

Cain is one of the few people who knows that Joe is gone for good by coming clean, and it could wreck her life."

As she leaves the court, Debbie frets – how will she cope if the prospect of a five-year sentence becomes a reality?

Nick's big gesture!

HE HAS A PROPOSAL FOR LEANNE...

Nick makes a bold move to help his ex and her clan...

Minted Nick goes all-out to show that he still loves Leanne this week – making her a huge offer...

Having realised what a mess he's made by leaving everyone in the lurch, the repentant fella decides to throw money at the situation. He finds out from sister Sarah that Leanne, baby Oli, Simon and Toyah are living in a grubby flat because they can't afford better. Spotting his chance to do some good, Nick puts down a deposit on an apartment in Victoria Court and covers the rent for three months. What will Leanne make of this grand gesture?

"Obviously, Leanne isn't going to rush into his arms just because he's paid to make amends," whispers our Street snitch. "In fact, she's quick to tell him they are only ever going to be friends, nothing more. But whatever Leanne says, nobody can deny the chemistry and the history between them. Even Simon reckons that Nick needs to keep at it – because they are meant to be together!"

Nick might be working overtime to get Leanne back, but he's also busy trying to field off calls from a mysterious stranger. David notices that there are tons of missed calls on his brother's phone from somebody called 'E', though Nick dismisses it. However, when Shona overhears him telling somebody that he's been busy in Weatherfield looking after poorly Gail, she demands answers. A furious row ensues, and David walks in to discover them fighting – so finds a way to silence the argument once and for all.

Tracy frames innocent Abi!

THIS COULD RUIN HER LIFE...

Tracy arrives back from honeymoon alone this week – just in time to see the police close in on Abi.

Following Michelle's car crash and Ronan's death, the detectives are busy investigating what happened that terrible day – particularly why the vehicle failed. That search leads them to Webster's Autos, and while Abi is grilled about the sabotaged motor, panicked Tracy realises it was her handiwork that caused the fatal accident! But she has no intention of coming clean – instead, she lets Abi go it alone...

Abi and Tracy are good mates, yet if somebody has to go down for this crime, Tracy is going to make sure it isn't her. In fact, as innocent Abi is led away, Tracy is already scheming about how to ensure all evidence points to her. Fortunately for Abi, there is one way to prove that she was innocent – the CCTV at the garage.

Despite the police being convinced she did it in exchange for drugs from Ronan, Abi knows the security camera at her workplace will show that she didn't sabotage the vehicle at all, and then her name will be cleared. But Abi discovers a major flaw in her plan – because Kevin's laptop, complete with the footage, has been stolen.

The terrible injustice of what's happening to her hits Abi hard as she faces losing everything. What will happen if she discovers pal Tracy is behind the whole thing?

Estranged from his brother and no closer to a reunion with Leanne, Nick's left to wonder if he should return to Nottingham. But when Leanne suggests he should stick around and work through things with David, Nick sees a slither of hope. What will he tell 'E' about his plans?

War veteran Greg comes to young Jack's rescue...

CORONATION STREET
ITV MONDAY

Jack struggles at holiday club this week, forcing his dad Kevin to take him home early – but might Gary's old Army mate, Greg, help the youngster?

Jack's in a bit of a state when Kev collects him, but after Greg calls in for a visit, he tries lifting the youngster's spirits by sharing his own experiences of wearing a prosthetic leg. Jack is clearly impressed by what the former soldier has to tell him, and Kev is relieved that someone is finally able to get through to his traumatised son.

Later, Kevin is further cheered to notice that Jack is completely smitten with Lila, a young girl who he'd been sitting next to at holiday club. But it's Greg's invitation to sit in on a training session of local bladerunners that leaves Jack properly excited.

Might Jack now start coming to terms with his life-changing injuries – and look forward to a brighter future?

A QUESTION OF CONSENT

I was very dubious when I first heard about the rape/consent storyline in EastEnders, and I didn't understand why it involved characters we barely knew. But I take it back! It's absolutely gripping – and making Martin and Stacey the equivalent of the viewing audience at home is a stroke of genius.

📍 | Justin, Manchester

GOOD RIDDANCE!

I don't have the words to express how glad I am to see the back of Corrie con artist Hannah/Katie. (Or 'Kadie' as I thought she was called for a while, thanks to Jim!) What a mean-spirited storyline. And I hope it doesn't lead to Jenny and Johnny splitting up. I love them in the Rovers together.

I think Jenny is too attached to her new life to let go so easily. But she'll have her revenge!

instalment. However, I want to say that I really hate the way that the soaps (EastEnders and Emmerdale in particular) suddenly drop storylines for weeks at a time just when they're getting interesting. Sometimes all the plots change overnight and it's like watching two different programmes. For example, Kim Tate turning up was all this week, but I still wanted to know how poor Chas was doing!

📍 | Mrs J Merrill, Sheffield

I know what you mean. What's going on with Mick Carter in prison? He's been forgotten!

Chas and Paddy's story being put on pause was rather jarring for fans

SHOW NO MERCY

I'm intrigued to know how the Dog in Hollyoaks is making any money. Mercedes has to be the rudest, most lazy landlady that I have ever seen in soap – she's even worse than Emmerdale's Charity! If the Dog was my local pub, I'd definitely be looking for somewhere else to drink with shoddy service like that.

📍 | Gina

I'd still drink there – just for the gossip I'd get from Mercy!

SING OUT!

I was intrigued to discover this week that Jean Slater in EastEnders is secretly a member of a choir. It made my family laugh because, like Jean, I've suffered from Bipolar Disorder all my life (though I was only diagnosed last year). And also like Jean, I've recently joined a choir, and I have to say that it has given me more pleasure than anything else in life – other than my children. I hope to see Jean's choir on screen very soon. Perhaps for a Christmas concert in the Square?

👤 | 'M'

I hope you're working on your recipe for Sausage Surprise, M!

CASS CONFESSES

As a die-hard 'Typer' fan, I never thought I'd say this – but I actually felt quite sorry for Cassius when he confessed his crimes in Neighbours. He only did it to protect his mum! I think that he genuinely is sorry, so I really hope Piper can forgive him.

👤 | Stephanie

Loyalty to your mum is admirable – but I don't think it will hold up in court as a defence for murder!

DOWN TO CLOWN

Steve McDonald is far and away my favourite character in Corrie, so this week has been absolutely brilliant.

Simon Gregson could have been a famous comedy star, but I'm very happy that he chose to stay in Weatherfield instead!

👤 | Liz

We can't wait until he gets together with Abi – it's destiny!

ILLUSTRATION: ROB DAVIS

THE ICE QUEEN COMETH

After years of waiting, we were stunned to see Kim Tate make her return to Emmerdale. But was it a successful comeback, or is it all just a little too late? Our mail bag was divided 50/50...

Kim Tate is exactly the shot in the arm that Emmerdale needs. For years now, it's all been too gloomy – a constant stream of terrible illnesses and big 'issue' stories. But finally it's time to have some fun again. Every soap needs a super-bitch, and there's no bitch more super than Kim!

👤 | Josie, Bradford

It was all a bit tragic, wasn't it? Correct me if I'm wrong, but is Eric Pollard the only character in the village who was around when Kim was last in it? All the blank faces when she turned up were hilarious. Totally clueless!

👤 | Beth

Well, if her neighbours didn't know Kim before, they certainly do now!

With Kim Tate, I felt like I was the only person not in on the joke, as I'd never heard of her. But I have to see that she soon won me over! There's a definite feeling that Emmerdale is making all this up as it goes along, though. She had to have some very long conversations with Graham to explain how she'd supposedly been running things all along. A likely story!

👤 | Zoe, London

I don't think we've had an owner of Home Farm worthy of the place in a very long time – not since Tom King died. So I'm very glad that Kim is back to stir up trouble again. The only question is: why is she bothering? With her money, she could live somewhere far nicer.

👤 | Don, London

And somewhere far safer, come to that!

FRINGE BENEFITS

There were lots of lovely dresses at the Home Farm ball, but my favourite was Kerry's pink dress with fringes. Is it available in the shops, do you know?

Yes, it's still available, but only just! Head to www.quizclothing.co.uk and search for the 'pink fringe dress'.

In a spooky soap coincidence, the same dress was also worn by Ruby in EastEnders this week – though she was wearing the yellow version. Sadly, it's sold out in that colour now, so it's good that you're thinking pink, Cat!

THE BIG interview

HOLLYOAKS | Channel 4 MONDAY

“I still get a buzz coming into work every day!”

As Hollyoaks is battered by a freak storm, Nick Pickard is proud to still be standing as the show's only original cast member...

When Nick Pickard joins Inside Soap for a long overdue catch-up, he's a little sleepy – and not just because he's been working through the night for Hollyoaks' 'Storm Week'.

“I took my mum to the airport at 5am, as she's off to Las Vegas!” reveals the 43-year-old star, who's been playing Tony Hutchinson for the past 23 years. “I've never been myself, but I'd like to go. Maybe I'll go if I ever have a stag do. I've been married five times on this show, yet never in real life!”

We assure Nick that Tony's colourful track record with women is nothing to feel envious of, and the actor is happy to share that he has a new girlfriend who he's been dating for six months. Meanwhile in Chester, Nick is hopeful that happier times lie ahead for his alter ego, who is back to stay in the village despite his recent family dramas...

“We all spend more time together than we do with our real families!”

It's been a very traumatic time for Tony, Diane and the children. How has it been to film?

It's been a right old roller coaster, hasn't it? Lots of ups and downs with Dee Dee's illness and lots of turmoil – but the episodes have been really great, and they are coming across lovely. It's so hard, though – horrible for anyone to think of a kid being so poorly. It makes you want to go home after filming and have a big glass of scotch!

Did you enjoy having some time away from the show while Tony was off screen?

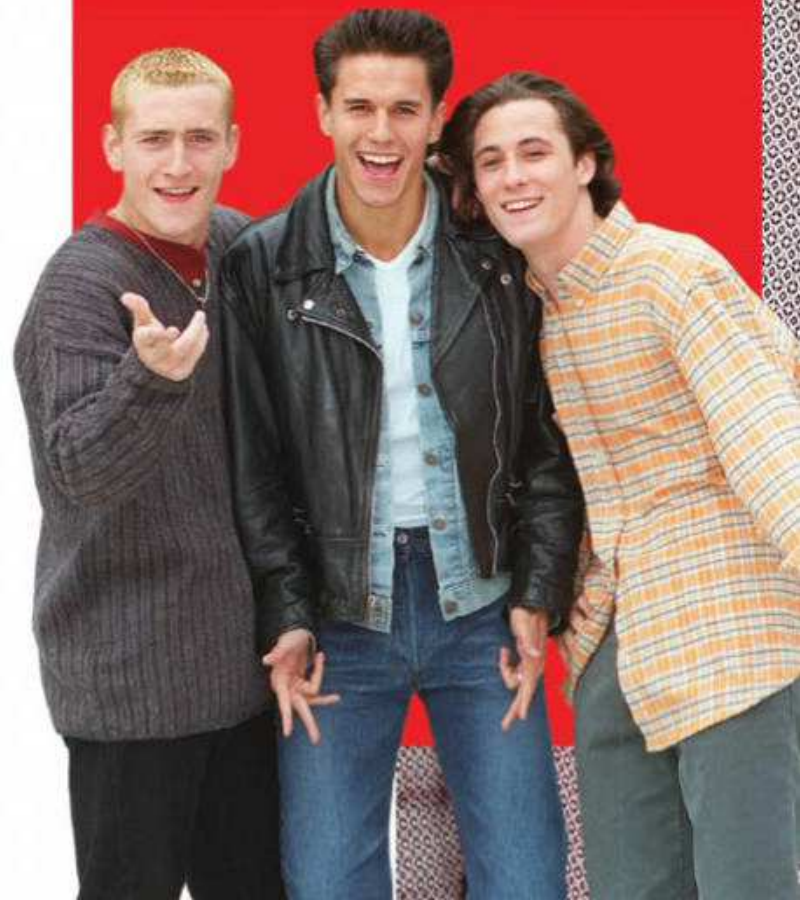

Well, it wasn't planned like that, but yes, I did. There was also time for me to go off and grow a bit of a beard, as we've had some issues with my beards in the past. We've used a stick-on one before, and I don't think the bosses wanted to do that again!

Diane and Tony agree to try again this week. Are you pleased?

Nick on...

THE OLD DAYS!

“All the boys had one house and all the girls had another. We were all young, earning money, and none of us had kids then – so we were living the dream! What's nice for me is I see that with our younger cast now. They're living the life that I was living back then.”

Living the dream:
Nick with his original
Hollyoaks co-stars

I am! I think everyone wants him to be happy with his missus, as he's had a few in the past! And I love being with my on-screen family, Alex [Fletcher, who plays Diane], Lauren [McQueen, aka Lily] and Ross Adams [Scott]. We spend more time together than with our real-life families, so it makes a difference when you have genuine chemistry and banter. I probably irritate them all!

Everyone we speak to is always so complimentary about you!

Are they? Suck-ups! I don't know about that – myself and Alex were shooting a scene today and she said to me, “Your concentration levels are terrible”! But you know, I still get a buzz when I come into work. Even now, I appreciate how lucky I am.

Having appeared in Hollyoaks since the very first episode way back in 1995, you'd think that Nick must have seen it all.

CONTINUED OVER ➤

Nick on...

STUNTS!

“Years ago, Tony did a parachute jump – and it's the only time in my life that I've thought, ‘I genuinely don't know if I can do this’! The only thing that made me jump out of that plane was the thought of all the grief I'd get from the crew for chickening out!”

THE BIG interview

Nick on...

TONY'S LEADING LADIES

"There have been a few, but Diane is definitely someone who Tony is very happy and content with – and I think Mandy will always have a special place in Tony's heart. As for Cindy, she's just a rat, isn't she? Tony had a lucky escape there!"

But even his jaw hit the floor when the cast learned that this year's autumn stunt would be a freak storm in the village! Coupled with Ste and Harry's wedding, it's a huge week for the show that Nick insists we won't want to miss...

Parry Glasspool has dropped a few hints (on p12) about what viewers can expect from Ste and Harry's wedding. What extra information can you tell us?

The episodes are going to be fantastic! It's not so much a big spectacular stunt this time, but more of an emotional roller coaster. The stunt looks beautiful, and it's going to be one of our best.

How devastating an impact will the storm have?

Put it this way, the village will look destroyed! I felt so sorry for little Steph [Davis], who plays Sinead. The boys were lucky in that we wore wet suits underneath our wedding outfits – but the girls are all in skimpy numbers, and Sinead's is even skimpier. Steph took it like a trooper, though. There is nothing worse than being freezing and wet for 12 hours straight!

How does Tony react to Sinead's return, given that the two of them once had an affair?

Oh, God, yeah, that! She's his flipping stepdaughter, so it was very naughty! But I'm so long in the tooth now

Nick on...

HOBBIES!

"I loved cooking as much as Tony does, but a few years ago I had an operation and lost my sense of taste! So I'm into my DIY now. I built all Jess Fox's [Nancy] outdoor decking for her the other week!"

It was my mum who actually convinced me to go along to the audition! Life could easily have been so different.

People think of you as 'Mr Hollyoaks'. Is that something you've come to embrace over the years?

I don't know about that, but you can't really argue when you've been here this long! It's weird, I was out at the weekend and someone said to me, "I've been watching you since I was three"! I was 20 when I started and now I'm 43, so when you hear stuff like that you think, 'God, I'm old'!

It's no secret that Stephanie's personal life hit the headlines when she was out of the show. Were you and Alex pleased to welcome her back?

Yeah, I really missed her. She's great to work with is Steph – she's a good laugh and having her on set is great fun. She's not changed in that sense, but I think she's a bit more grounded now – she's had a baby and that makes a lot of difference. I don't think there is anyone in life who hasn't made a few mistakes when they've been younger, and it's nice that our guv'nor [series producer Bryan Kirkwood] has given her an opportunity to come back – and I think she is very grateful.

William Roache (Coronation Street's Ken Barlow) has been in his soap for nearly 60 years. Can you see yourself being in Hollyoaks for as long as that?

Well, I never imagined it being this long, so you never know! 60 years? Shut up – that's another 40... which means I'll be 80... Deary me!

Laura-Jayne Tyler

Family affair: Tony had a fling with his stepdaughter Sinead, the filthy fella!

that I'm not really surprised by what the bosses throw my way. I'd love to be a fly on the wall in the pitch meetings they have! But no, I don't think Tony and Sinead will be doing that again. It'll definitely be over between Tony and Diane if they do!

You've been in the show for 23 years – did you ever envisage staying as long as you have?

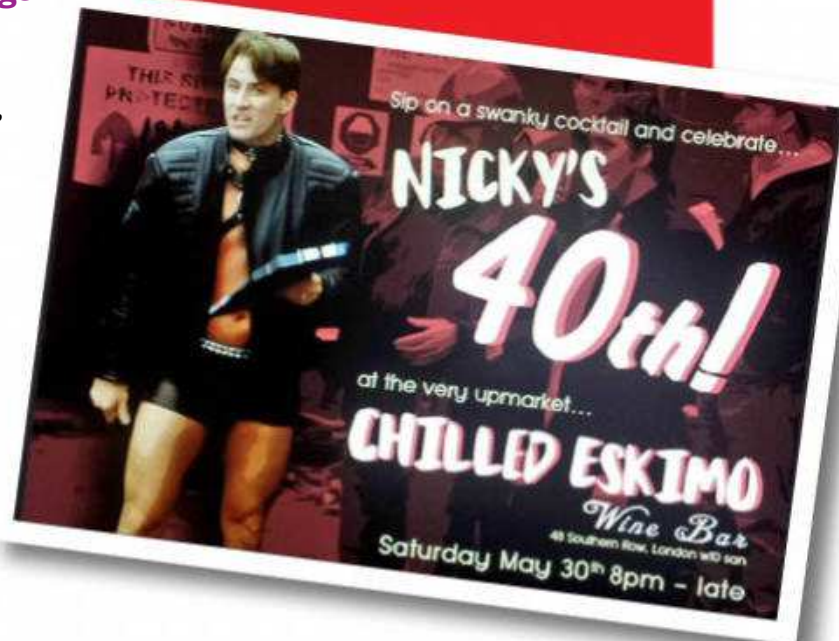

No! When I started, I signed for 23 weeks! I have a pub in London, and I nearly didn't come for my second recall because I had a plasterer coming to the bar.

"Someone said to me, 'I've been watching you since I was three'. It made me think, 'God, I'm old'!"

Nick on...

COSTUME DRAMA!

"When Tony was protesting against a sex shop in the village, I was dressed up in full S&M gear. We had to reshoot it as our boss Bryan wasn't happy with the original outfit, as he thought it was too much – but Bryan's 'too much' wasn't that different to what I ended up wearing! I used a picture of me dressed like it on the invitation to my 40th birthday party!"

Death stare:
Ali saw red – and Ronan paid
the price

Doctor DEATH!

TORTURED ALI IS GRAPPLING WITH HIS
KILLER ACTIONS, AND IT COULD BREAK HIM, FEARS CORRIE'S JAMES BURROWS...

CORONATION STREET | ITV FRIDAY

It's hard to believe that Weatherfield's heroic Dr Ali is now officially a killer. But his split-second decision to remove the metal post that was keeping drug boss Ronan alive means that he now has blood on his hands.

Ali is tormented by guilt – and in the depths of despair, everything he thought he was is slowly slipping away. It will lead to dark times ahead, warns Corrie's James Burrows...

"I was a bit worried when I first read the scripts because I didn't want Ali to become the new Pat Phelan – mass murderer!" shares the actor, who joins us for a chat about his alter ego's darkest hour. "It's a terrible thing for anyone to do, but especially for doctors, who have saving lives ingrained in them. I've played Ali while keeping in mind the fact that we've always said there is an underlying darker side to him. Obviously now, after the murder of Ronan, it's finally been revealed."

This is no cut-and-dried killer case, though. Ali did what he did after realising that Ronan was hell-bent on killing his brother Ryan. Their relationship and his tortured bond with mum Michelle have left him deeply damaged. Now, he's gone against the Hippocratic Oath to protect them.

"Ali has a lot of anger!" admits James. "There's always been two sides to him – the Ali at work and then Ali at home with his mum and brother. He has a lot of frustration that stems from being away from his family for so many years. He's dedicated his whole life to medicine for the past seven years – from uni and medical school to becoming a junior doctor. Now he's in a situation where he doesn't know if he can ever go back to helping people again."

Gobsmacked: Ali is disgusted with what he's done

It's out of character for Ali, but James has played plenty of baddies before, and he's had to work hard to develop his skills as a pretend doctor.

"My mum is a nurse, so that's been very helpful if I've ever had to do any research – I can just go to her," grins the star. "She's given me advice before I've filmed stuff with dressings, and that's helped me when there are terms I haven't heard before. She spells things out to me, and that's great because I can just come into work, get it bang on and sound professional!"

That's certainly helpful on set, but James reckons that some jokey Coronation Street fans like to test his doctorly credentials when they see him out and about.

"Has anyone in real life come up to me and asked for medical attention? Yep, mostly when I'm in the pub!" he laughs. "It's mainly men when they've had a drink! But I've only done a CPR course, so I've learnt how to do that. Luckily at Corrie, we always have someone on site to take me through medical stuff!"

It sounds as though Ali's crisis of identity might mean James won't have much technical terminology to grapple with in the coming weeks. So does he think that Ali will ever get back to the medical profession?

"I think he'll go into a deep state of depression, as he's vulnerable, paranoid and very down," reveals the actor. "I've played a lot of dark characters in the past – drug dealers, murderers and the like – and that's why this has been a great job for me, because playing a doctor is very different. But it was nice to go back to playing a nasty person for a moment. We filmed the crash scenes on location, and it looked so cinematic. At one point, I had four people's blood on me – it was a nightmare to get off!"

Kate White

Drunk men come up to me for medical advice!

Bloody mess: Ali has created even more problems for himself

Deadly DOCS!

Soapland is full of murderous medics. In comparison, Dr Ali is basically a saint!

DR MAY WRIGHT
EASTENDERS

Wicked May went mad after her husband Rob Minter got mistress Dawn Swann preggers. She tried to buy Dawn's unborn baby, took her hostage during late pregnancy and attempted to kidnap baby Summer. May then later attacked Dawn's brother Mickey and trapped the pair and Summer! Dawn's torment only ended when she escaped, and May died after blowing up the house by turning on the gas oven and lighting a match.

DR ADAM FORSYTHE EMMERDALE

Steph Stokes was no angel, but her twisted husband Dr Adam was even worse.

He killed her evil brother Terence, drugged guilty Steph so she wouldn't confess, double-crossed her and got her sectioned. He finally fled the village when it was exposed that he was practising medicine illegally, and he was jailed for murder. He later hanged himself in prison.

DR JOSEPH BROWNING HOLLYOAKS

Mercedes married Dr Browning – who during their relationship, killed Lynsey Nolan, attempted to murder Myra and Cindy, and tried to rape both Lindsey Roscoe and Mercedes herself. His last stand involved kidnapping his wife and trying to kill her too, until Cindy and Lindsey turned up to save the day – and in a struggle, Mercedes finally ended him.

“It was the worst thing Leyla could possibly do!”

Ever since Leyla returned to the Dales a few weeks ago – giving David the shock of his life in the process – we’ve been wondering exactly what it is that’s brought her back to the village. More specifically, there’s the enigma of just what she was up to while she was away in Greece. And after she talks on the phone to mystery man Clive, asking him when he’ll be coming to join her, we finally start to get the answers to some of our questions.

As Inside Soap caught up with actress Roxy Shahidi, aka Leyla, we asked her who this fella Clive is. It seems that he’s in a relationship with Leyla, but how did they meet, are they still together, and is it true that they’re engaged? Fortunately, Roxy is able to provide us with a few titbits of information...

“It’s been a whirlwind romance,” confirms the star. “They met when Leyla was in Greece, and she was supposed to be focussing on her wedding-planning business. But I think

AS WE DISCOVER MORE ABOUT LEYLA’S SECRET MAN, HER ALTER EGO ROXY SHAHIDI TELLS US WHY HE MIGHT BE BAD NEWS...

Ruffling feathers: Clive manages to wrap Leyla round his little finger she became quite lonely over there. She missed her family and friends, though she didn't feel she could go home, because of everything that had happened with David. I think she still had feelings for him, yet that was also mixed with guilt about what she'd done to her friend Tracy.

"So Leyla was out in Greece working really hard, but feeling very alone, and a little bit trapped – and then along came Clive!" adds Roxy. "He was charming, exciting and he kind of whisked her off her feet. However, he was the fiancé of a lady whose wedding she was planning! So Leyla was incredibly unprofessional. I mean, it was just the worst thing she could possibly do – but she did it anyway!"

It sounds as if Leyla is getting in over her head again! Why does she end up getting herself into this sort of situation?

"She really just needed someone or something in her life," stresses Roxy. "Leyla and Clive have got engaged very quickly, and she decides that now she's found this new man, she wants to start a new life. And the only place to do that is back in the village because she has Jacob there, and she has loved ones who still mean a lot to her."

Given the sort of mistakes that Leyla has made with men in the past, we're betting that it won't be plain-sailing with Clive either! Or perhaps this will prove to be the exception. Roxy certainly isn't banking on it, though...

"I have to say Leyla always makes awful decisions when it comes to men!" she chuckles. "She thinks Clive is to be trusted, though. I reckon she finds him very charming and exciting. But he's actually a bit of a wheeler dealer, and a shady character. I don't think Leyla knows everything about him."

As the story picks up this week, we find out that Leyla has a huge stash of money and some jewellery in her handbag, which she almost spills in public. She manages to stuff the contents back into her bag before anyone sees – but soon afterwards, a mysterious woman, Suzie, ransacks the house, and Leyla seems to know who she is. Has Leyla been doing something shifty?

"Well, Leyla doesn't think she's been up to anything dodgy!" stresses Roxy. "She thinks this money is for her and Clive's future."

However, it turns out that it's actually Clive's ex-fiancée's family jewels! Now really, this should be a red flag to Leyla. It should be something that makes her go, 'Should I trust this guy, Clive? Should I be with him?' But instead, she just lets him worm his way out of it."

Clive finally turns up in the village just after Leyla decides to wash her hands of him – having given Suzie back her loot. Although she tells Vanessa how she's determined to move on from Clive and concentrate on her career at Take A Vow, she entertains Clive, who begs her for a chance to explain things.

Will he end up dragging Leyla further into his murky waters?

Leyla was quite lonely in Greece – then along came Clive!

Roxy's RETURN!

The star tells us how it's been coming back to the Dales...

Although Leyla has been away in Greece for most of the year, Roxy herself has been on maternity leave, after giving birth to her first child with husband Arsher Ali. So has it been easy to get back into the swing of things, playing Leyla again?

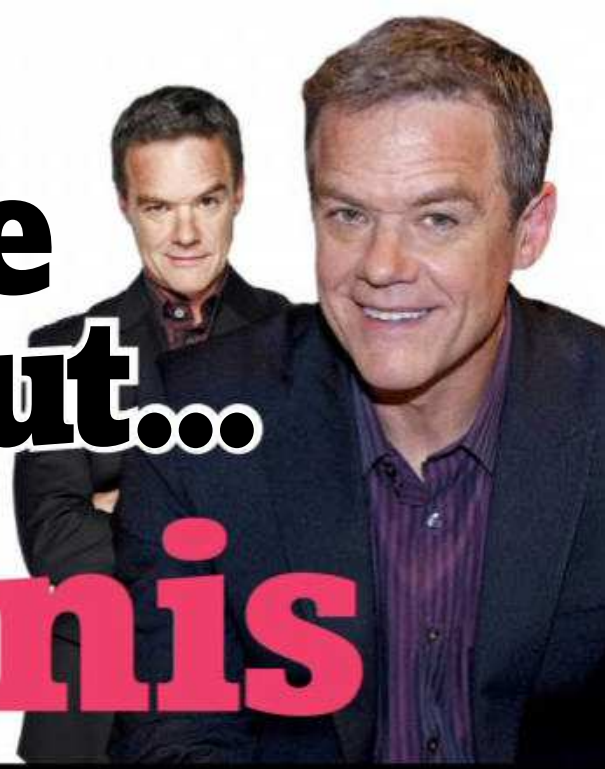

"There's always an adjustment period, but it is kind of like riding a bike," she reckons. "I mean, you do play a character for so long. At first, you're a little bit nervous about everything – 'Can I still do this? Am I going to do it right?' – but quite quickly you kind of get back into the swing of things. It just feels fun and good. It is definitely difficult to juggle home life and work life, though, but I think everyone feels like that!"

Partners in arms: Arsher and Roxy have been married since 2010

10 totally true FACTS about... Stefan Dennis

YOUR InsideSoap BRIEFING ON THE MAN BEHIND NEIGHBOURS' PAUL...

1 Stefan Dennis was born in the town Tawonga, Victoria, Australia on 30 October 1958. He has an older brother called Chris, and the two of them studied at a boarding school in Australia. Their eldest brother, John, sadly died just before his 13th birthday. At a young age, Stefan and Chris both loved entertaining and they formed a vocal group, regularly performing together at weddings and charity events. Talented Stefan launched his acting career when he was just 11 years old, in an amateur production of the musical Oliver! in Queensland.

3 Stefan stumbled across the part of Paul Robinson by accident! He read for two parts, Shane Ramsay and Des Clarke. Stefan assumed that he had been given the part of Des, but it wasn't until he saw his first script that he realised he'd landed the role of Paul. Stefan joined the cast in 1985, left in 1993 and returned to Erinsborough over a decade later in 2004 – and he's now the longest-running character on an Australian TV show!

4 While Stefan was auditioning for Neighbours, he was waiting for a call back for a film, The Lighthorseman, which he'd also tested for. Stefan was desperate to star in the movie, but he says that when it was finally released, "it was one of the biggest box office flops in Australian movie history". Lucky escape, Stefan!

2 Despite taking up an apprenticeship as a chef, Stefan soon returned to acting, with small guest roles in TV. On Prisoner: Cell Block H, his character was a teenage love interest of Doreen Burns, played by Colette Mann – now better known as Paul Robinson's best frenemy, Sheila Canning! "I was so nervous, just hopeless," recalls Stefan of the part. "I was surrounded by this bevy of really big stars, and here I was in my first significant ongoing role."

5 Following in the footsteps of his cast family – Kylie Minogue and Jason Donovan – Stefan attempted to launch his own pop career! His first single, Don't It Make You Feel Good, reached a notable number 16 in the UK charts in 1989 – but his second song, This Love Affair, released later that year, only managed to claw its way to number 67. Stefan didn't release any further records.

6 When Stefan originally left Neighbours in 1993, he moved to the UK to pursue other acting avenues.

He swapped the sunny sights of Erinsborough for the Metropolitan police in The Bill, and then landed a part in Scottish soap River City, as Dr Marcus McKenzie – perhaps an even bigger villain than Paul, who was eventually murdered for his wrongdoings! He still takes on other work, and earlier this year, he had a recurring part in Australian TV show Wentworth.

7 It's not just TV that Stefan's excelled in – he's also dabbled in the world of theatre! In the early 90s, he starred in Cinderella (alongside EastEnders' June Brown, aka Dot), as well as UK productions of Jack And The Beanstalk, Robin Hood and Aladdin. Stefan also took on the role of Blood Brothers' Mickey in 1994, performing in Oz and New Zealand.

8 Stefan met his wife, Gail Easdale, when they worked on a production of Aladdin at Southampton's Mayflower Theatre in 1992.

The couple later married in 2000 and have three children – Cameron, Declan and Darci. Gail even acted in Neighbours alongside Stefan in 2016, as his nemesis Julie Quill. Unlike Stefan, Paul Robinson is notorious for being a ladies' man. Since the show's first episode in 1985, Paul has got married five times, and he has seven children by four different women!

9 Stefan was once approached to take part in Celebrity MasterChef, but because he qualified as a chef many years ago, he's not allowed to take part! Despite this, Stefan confessed that he'd love to be a judge. "Everybody would expect me to be the nasty judge, and I'd actually want to be the nice judge," he sighs. "I also want to do Strictly Come Dancing!" Hopefully one day we'll see Stefan holding the famous glitter ball!

10 Stefan was convinced that Neighbours would be a huge flop! "The irony is that it only survived for seven months, then was axed by the network," he remembers. "I couldn't resist saying 'I told you so' to everyone. But then Channel 10 picked us up. On this particular occasion, I'm more than happy to have been proved wrong!" It's now been more than 30 years since we first met Paul Robinson – so here's to many more years of vintage villainy!

Fit the Bill: Duffy is drawn closer to her childhood sweetheart

CASUALTY | BBC1 SATURDAY

“Duffy’s good at her job – but not at looking after herself...”

AS HER ALTER EGO CONTINUES TO SUFFER IN SILENCE, CATHY SHIPTON ADMITS THERE ARE MORE DARK TIMES IN STORE...

personal side of her life, though – she can manage for everyone else, but not for herself. As a character, she’s a copier, and she doesn’t want to add to Charlie’s burden. Recently, he came home and told her she’s his rock, and he doesn’t know what he’d do without her. That’s when she should have said, “Actually...” So they’ve both been negligent.

What’s it meant to her, having Bill back in her life?

They have a shared history – they’re childhood sweethearts. His life isn’t straightforward either, which makes it easier for Duffy to put her own problems aside and concentrate on his. So it might be bad timing from that point of view, but Bill is also someone who she’s been able to start sharing things with.

Casualty doesn’t shy away from addressing tricky issues – is that important to you?

For sure. For our guest characters, their story is done and dusted in a week. But we’re also playing out long-running stories with our long-running characters, and taking the audience along with us. We’re not pulling any punches, and I think that’s good.

We can’t help but fear for Charlie and Duffy’s relationship. Can they cope or is worse still to come?

I can’t say too much, of course. But our producer Lucy Raffety has already gone out there to say that both Duffy and Charlie have a challenging time ahead. We’ll be exploring things that will touch a lot of people’s lives, and it’ll all be very relatable. So have the Kleenex ready!

Allison Jones

Down the Duff: Charlie’s missus hasn’t confided in him about her low mood

In times of crisis, nurse Duffy is there for everyone. But she’s now embroiled in tough times of her own, and has never felt more alone. With her husband Charlie oblivious to how much she’s struggling, Duffy is forced closer to her former flame Bill this week. As we catch up with Cathy Shipton – who plays Duffy – she admits that it doesn’t bode well...

Sum up how Duffy is feeling.

For the past few months, Duffy hasn’t been herself. She’s gone to the doctor, who sees her as someone who works in a high-pressure environment, and has diagnosed her with depression. But she hasn’t been sharing any of that with Charlie. I’m sure that if she did, he’d say, “Come on, let’s get our lives together and sort things out!”

Do you feel frustrated with her for not sharing her feelings with Charlie?

I’m sure that people must be shouting at the telly! There’s an element of Duffy that’s denying what she’s feeling, believing it’ll just go away – which is human, and I’m sure a lot of people can relate to that. But it’s good to explore. People are flawed, and that’s one of the things I love about playing Duffy. She’s good at her job, yet she’s not necessarily good at working out what she needs.

Having played Duffy for so long, do you feel like you know her inside out?

Well, I do and I don’t. Sometimes people can surprise you! Duffy has never been good with the

LOVING her work

While Duffy endures her troubles, Casualty is just the job for Cathy...

“Fortunately, I don’t get all that much medical jargon in my scripts – but the physical stuff, like bandaging and patching people up, is easy-peasy now. I’ve been doing it for a million years, so I could probably do it in my sleep!”

“In between scenes, I’m forever knitting away. It’s great because it’s more productive than just hanging about. I knit a lot of baby clothes and things

I can rustle up quickly. And I often listen to music or plays at the same time, so it’s very relaxing.”

“I have to say that I like it when I’m filming scenes in Charlie’s office. That particular set has got really nice moody lighting, and we’re often doing some very meaty scenes in there – proper character-exploring stuff...”

“I still miss my former co-star Brenda Fricker (aka nurse Megan Roach). We keep in touch – although we were better at it when I wasn’t back on the show. Now I’m here again, the months fly by so fast! We manage the odd catch-up email, though.”

“Without realising it at the time, the Casualty guest stars I’ve been most excited about are Kate Winslet and Minnie Driver – who’ve since gone stellar!

It was phenomenal working with Kate, who was luminous. Minnie was very bright and great fun.”

WALFORD'S DANNY DYER RAISES A GLASS TO THE TOP LADY IN HIS LIFE...

EastEnders' Carter clan is having a tough time with innocent Mick in prison, but Team Danny Dyer is loving life – and each other!

Danny and wife Jo were proud parents as they attended an event at London's Libertine nightclub to celebrate the launch of daughter Dani's first-ever clothing line with fashion brand In The Style.

Reflecting on the night that Love Island winner Dani was conceived, the actor gave a speech at the event: "Me and my wife made her – and listen, the thing is, right, it didn't take long. It was about two minutes – maybe quarter of an hour.

"She's an incredible human being and we're very proud of her. I'm slightly choked up!"

Jo then grabbed the microphone from her husband and exclaimed, "What are you crying for, Mick?" to which he replied, "You gotta stop calling me Mick in front of people!"

Well, you'll always be Mick to us, Danny!

Going on a trip to Alton Towers' special Scarefest event seemingly held no fear for Corrie's Simon Gregson (Steve) and his family – but then, how could the man brave enough to cheat on Tracy Barlow possibly be scared of anything? Simon was joined by his wife Emma and his three handsome sons: Alfie, age 11, Harry, who's nine, and two-year-old Henry Teddy. But as this picture was taken before they tackled the rides, who knows what Meanwhile, former Hollyoaks resident Sophie Porley (Ellie Nightingale) held on tight to her co-star boyfriend Adam Woodward (who plays Brody) – and we can't say we blame her!

RUNNING FOR BABS

It's lovely to see EastEnders' Dame Barbara Windsor (Peggy Mitchell) looking so well! Next year, her hubby Scott Mitchell is running the London Marathon to support the Dementia Revolution campaign, which is raising funds to find a cure for Alzheimer's Disease. Barbara has been diagnosed with dementia, and Scott is glad to support his beloved wife and the quest for a breakthrough in the battle with the disease.

"The last few years have been really hard for both Barbara and me, as we got used to the profound effect dementia has had on our lives," he said. "Despite all the changes in Barbara, there is still so much of her there – her humour, wit and care for others."

INVICTUS GAMES

LET THE GAMES BEGIN!

In just four years, the Invictus Games – founded by Prince Harry in 2014 and open to all wounded or sick Armed Forces serving personnel and veterans – have gone from strength to strength, and the team behind this year's Games, held in Sydney, is keen to make it the biggest and best yet.

Inside TV caught up with this year's UK presenting anchors, Alex Jones and 2014 gold-medal winner JJ Chalmers, to find out what we can expect...

"When we first turned up in 2014, we thought it was going to be a sports day and we'd all do an egg-and-spoon race!" admits JJ. "Then you get there, and it's the Olympic Park! And this time it's also on the BBC, Alex Jones is going to be there – it's a big deal! You feel like a rock star and, from my point of view, when I look at these individuals, they deserve to be treated like rock stars. These guys have gone through more than anybody to even get to the starting line, let alone the finish, and that's why we will do whatever we can to make this coverage shine."

And while this is Alex's first time presenting at the Games, she has history with the event.

"We've covered it on The One Show since its inception," she explains. "We've talked to Prince Harry about it – we've actually had JJ on to talk about it! But to get to go to Sydney, watch the games and get to know the people whose lives it's going to transform, and their families, that's what I'm really looking forward to."

There's also a new event for this year's Games, as sailing is on the itinerary for the first time. And JJ reckons Sydney is the perfect host city for it...

"The first day of the contest is down in the harbour right in front of the Sydney Opera House – it'll be beautiful," he grins. "It's a sport built around teamwork and the adaptation of the boat itself in order that, whatever your ailment might be, it's a level playing field. But let's be honest – it's Australia, the water is like a bathtub, it's going to be amazing!"

And while there's sure to be fierce competition for medals, the event serves a wider purpose in helping those who've experienced a major setback to have something to focus on. So whatever the outcome, there's really a sense that everyone's a winner.

"For an individual to have something horrendous happen, the Invictus Games give a platform where they can shine again," shares Alex. "And for their families to see that transition, to get to the Games and achieve something else, I'm sure they'll feel relief. That's what we're keen to reflect."

The Alienist

Sara I've just finished The Handmaid's Tale. I'm obsessed with it, but it feels so palpable, and that terrifies me! Not necessarily the infertility aspect of it, I just feel that in a Trump world there is so much divide – it feels so possible.

Christian I've only seen the French & Saunders version, with Dawn French wearing a massive white cap where she can't see anything!

Sara Maybe I should watch that instead – this gives me anxiety every Sunday!

Christian I'm watching The Alienist on Netflix at the moment. That's quite dark and deals with similar issues. I love those sorts of Gothic shows, and there's medicine in it, even though I don't usually watch shows that have anything to do with medicine!

Kath & Kim

Sara For a more relaxing show, I love Catastrophe. But for something really light-hearted, I have to go for Love Island.

Christian My other half racked up a £100 phone bill downloading apps for Love Island! And apparently it doesn't even cost you anything to vote!

Sara I'm in a Love Island group chat, there's about 50 of us on there, and they've been watching Love Island Australia. I haven't started it yet, but I've been told it's great.

Christian My wind-down show is Kath & Kim – I'm doing the whole thing again on Netflix. That's my guilty pleasure...

Actually, I'm not guilty about it at all, it's a pleasure. It's genius!

GORDON, GINO AND FRED: ROAD TRIP | ITV THURSDAY

SOMETIMES THE BEST IDEAS are the ones that catch you completely by surprise. We'd never have thought that putting this trio together and letting them out on the road would make for hilarious telly, but the dynamic between them is brilliant – especially when Gino's at the wheel trying to get the van Amid all of the teasing and bickering, this show has been a brilliant opportunity for all three to showcase the best food that their respective homelands have to offer – and in this week's final episode, they're on Gordon's turf in Scotland. But will their voyage end on a high(land) note?

LEON TOWERS IS HERE TO HELP SORT OUT YOUR PROBLEMATIC POOCHES...

Has your parakeet got you squawking with rage? A misbehaving bunny left you hopping mad? Salvation is at hand in this new daily series where a group of animal behavioural experts help owners who are reaching the end of their tethers. Inside TV spoke to dog behaviourist Leon Towers to find out what sort of challenges he faced...

Hi, Leon! What can we expect from the series?

There are lots of laughs, first of all. There are some really funny stories and lots of heartfelt ones, so you can go from crying with laughter to crying with emotion in a split second – it's that kind of vibe. And what you see is what you get. It can't be rehearsed, because I can't fix a dog then unfix it again to do another take. The first time I get to see the client or the dog is the minute the camera starts rolling.

Can you tell us a little more about some of the dogs you'll be dealing with?

One springs to mind that's quite funny – there's a shih-tzu called Casper, and his owners Nick and Angela had come in to see me because Casper had been barking at the telly for five years and they've never been able to sort it. The dog literally headbutts the television and even tries to bite the screen – he goes absolutely crazy any time there's an animal or a cartoon on TV. You'll just have to tune in to find out what happens!

It sounds as though you have some rather big problems to sort out...

Yeah, there were challenges that came into my centre at the clinic that I'd never dealt with before, so you just have to think on your toes. But there's some kind of bond with me and any dog that comes in. I'm not saying I'm Dr Dolittle, but I can sense what's wrong with them, and how it started. It just comes straight into my head.

You're helping people to get peace with their pets – does that make it quite a satisfying job?

Do you know what? It's absolutely lovely. I haven't done my job properly if they leave and the problem hasn't been fixed. I love seeing the owners leaving my clinic, with a big smile on their faces and lots of kisses and cuddles, going back to a new life for them and their dogs.

Completely barking: Casper goes mad at the telly

COAST VS COUNTRY | Channel 4 WEEKDAYS

KERR DRUMMOND SHOWS HIS COMPETITIVE SIDE WHEN IT COMES TO HOUSE-HUNTING...

Two things that we particularly enjoy watching on telly are people looking around beautiful houses, and fierce competition.

Lucky for us, then, that Coast vs Country fulfils both of our needs on that front, as Kerr Drummond attempts to entice the show's contributors to move to the coast, while Kirsty Duffy offers up her most persuasive arguments for buying in the country. We chatted to Kerr to find out how competitive things really get...

"Very!" he chuckles. "We've both got our excuses. Most of the time country goes first, so Kirsty's always moaning that I can learn a lot from her first couple of house tours! But across the country, property prices are generally higher on the coast, so when it comes to excuses I'm always going to win! It's never easy, but we are very, very competitive."

Pet detective: Gavin McDonagh is also on the case

Kerr and Kirsty both get to look around the houses their rivals have selected to show the prospective buyers, but Kerr tells us that first impressions can sometimes be misleading.

"More often than not, I'll turn up to Kirsty's houses and think, 'Oh, God, I could be in trouble here!'" he laughs. "But it's amazing how many times the property that doesn't really meet the brief as well actually ends up drawing their attention, and then they end up going with it!"

FEELING PEAKY

And another returning favourite... Filming has begun on the fifth series of Peaky Blinders, which is set to move from BBC2 to BBC1. The latest run will see the Shelbys finding opportunities anew during the financial crash of 1929.

STILL FAITHFUL

Hit thriller Keeping Faith is set to return for a second series. The drama, in which Eve Myles plays a lawyer whose husband disappears on his way to work one morning leaving her with a mass of unanswered questions, will air across the UK next year.

The crew members of the North West Ambulance Service have to be ready for whatever comes their way when they start a shift, and in this week's episode, advanced paramedic Luke is dispatched to assist a 19-year-old in labour. The dispatcher tells him that it will be "useful practice" – as Luke's about to become a father himself...

"When you get a call through for a maternity job, there's a bit of added pressure," he tells us. "Obviously maternity and childbirth is a natural thing that's been happening for a long, long time, and there's only a small percentage of labours where anything goes wrong – but you're still responsible for two lives on those incidents, so for me there are always a few more nerves! Initially, the job at hand was my main focus, but afterwards – once we'd made sure that baby and mum were fine – it was hitting home that this was going to be me very soon!"

As previous series were made with the West Midlands Ambulance Service, this was Luke's first time being filmed on the job – yet many of his patients already knew what to expect.

"The amount of people when we were on jobs who'd say, 'Oh, I watch that programme!' was phenomenal," he chuckles. "I'll probably watch it and cringe, because whenever I see myself on film or hear a recording of myself, I realise how heavy an accent I have!"

THE X FACTOR | ITV 8.25PM

The magic number

It's the start of the live shows – hurrah! And there's a slight amendment to proceedings this year: four acts are through to the lives instead of three.

According to judge Simon Cowell, "I just went, 'What is the downside of having four rather than three?' I really did think there's no way I can just put three through, I can't."

Erm, isn't that the whole point of being a judge? Anyway, that's not for here. Because what with the bonus contestants and the new line-up next to Chief Cowell of Robbie, Ayda and Louis T, there'll hopefully be a few sparks flying across the panel. True to form, Rob has confessed to being "up for causing some mischief". Well, until the missus gives him a ticking off, we suspect...

Dodge City

Regional variations

ROBOZUNA | ITV 8.30AM

This brand-new children's series certainly packs a punch. Teenager Ariston sends his homemade robot bestie Mangle (catchphrase: "Mangle, protect") into battle in Robozuna, a competition which sees Combatabots win by scoring a goal with a 'Thudball' that they nick off their opponents by, basically, obliterating them. Think a computer-animated extreme Dodgeball.

Lending their voices to the action are current Strictly contender Danny John-Jules, comedy legend Morwenna Banks and Jordan Stephens, one-half of Brit hip-hop act Rizzle Kicks (ask your kids, if necessary).

54 HOURS: THE GLADBECK HOSTAGE CRISIS | BBC4 9PM

This miniseries based on a true story aired in Germany earlier this year to rave reviews, so we've been very excited to clap our eyes on it ever since BBC4 acquired the rights to it back in the summer. It dramatises the titular crisis of August 1988 – two criminals hijacked a bus after a bank robbery went wrong, and errors made by the police and the media led to two hostages dying.

MY FAVOURITE SKETCH | Gold 10PM

Sally Phillips' guided tour through the finest moments in sketch-comedy history finishes tonight, as special guest Sue Perkins picks her favourites. They include skits from Dave Allen, Saturday Night Live and The League Of Gentlemen.

BRAMWELL | Drama 1PM

The third series of the Victorian-set medical drama starring Jemma Redgrave continues, as recuperating Eleanor discovers an outbreak of measles at the village school. Later, a faith healer sparks division at The Thrift.

THE CRY | BBC1 9PM

Truth be told

The twists, turns and double-bluffs continue to throw things into question in this fourth and final instalment of the Beeb's brilliant psychological drama.

Joanna – you can't read her, can't read her p-p-poker face – and hubby Alistair grow yet further apart as they attempt to rebuild their lives following the unravelling of their relationship. In tonight's episode, finally the truth will out – and something tells us it's going to get messy.

We don't want to give away too much about this one, because so much of the show's appeal lies in the inscrutability of its characters, so it's best to go in knowing as little as possible – but let's just say that Joanna's memory is sparked into action by an unexpected delivery...

Sweet child o' mine

BUTTERFLY | ITV 9PM

Stock up on the Kleenex, as the heartfelt, complex drama surrounding 11-year-old Max's gender dysphoria and the profound effect it has on the Duffy family continues. This episode sees divided couple Vicky and Stephen doing everything they can to support their child's transition to becoming Maxine. However, the speed at which everything is progressing makes it clear that Stephen's discomfort with the entire situation hasn't gone away. In desperation to help her child, Vicky takes matters into her own hands – and makes a reckless decision.

CHICAGO MED | Universal 9PM

When it comes to end-of-season cliffhangers, medical dramas rarely hold back, and season three of Chicago Med was no exception: Will asked Natalie to marry him, Connor was offered a job with the Mayo Clinic (a highly-regarded not-for-profit healthcare centre, fy) and also Dr Charles maybe letting Sarah's father die. That last one in particular has major repercussions as the new season begins...

ARTHUR MILLER: WRITER | Sky Atlantic 9PM

He wrote some of the most celebrated plays of the 20th century and he married Marilyn Monroe, so Arthur Miller's place in history is assured. In this doc, his filmmaker daughter Rebecca offers her insights on the man behind the words.

CLUB REP WARS | E4 10PM

One team is already at a disadvantage after last week's newcomer Leon picked his side – so both squads will be equally eager to land farmer's daughter Emi. But will she prefer Pink's singles night or Blue's champagne spray party?

Hanging on the telephone

You could theoretically make the argument that we, as a society, set too much store by the idea of celebrities having all the answers. Why else would we be so keen to follow in their footsteps? But, on the other hand, what if they do have all the answers? If only there were a scientific way of finding out...

But wait! What's this? In aid of Stand Up To Cancer, a group of stars including Rachel Riley, Kimberley Walsh, Joel Dommett and Louie Spence is offering the general public the benefit of their experience by working the phones of a call centre. They take calls on any subject, although it's safe to say there are quite a few questions about love and dating. Just don't ask them when your bins are getting collected.

ONLY CONNECT | BBC2 8PM

Quizzly Mondays are back! As much as we love University Challenge, it's just not the same when it's not part of a double-bill with Only Connect, so thank goodness for the return of Victoria Coren Mitchell's lateral-thinking quiz tonight. (Of course, purists would argue that University Challenge should be on first, but we'll save that argument for another day.)

Series 14 begins as the Hotpots take on the Poptimists, but really the teams and the questions are of secondary importance. We're mostly here for that exquisite bit after the round two music question when Victoria makes the teams sing.

EMMA WILLIS: DELIVERING BABIES | W 10PM

As one of the UK's most reliable hosts of live TV, we know that Emma Willis can keep a cool head under pressure. But working on a maternity ward? Blimey. In this new six-part series, Emma spends 10 weeks on shift in an Essex hospital as a maternity care assistant: making tea, cleaning rooms and doing baby checks. But how long will it be until she gets to be present for a birth?

INSIDE THE TOWER OF LONDON | Channel 5 9.15PM

The only way is up

We're being sent to the Tower – though thankfully not in the way that a person might have been sent to the Tower in the 1700s. You know, the kind that would have removed one's ability to wear hats permanently. Luckily there's no risk to our necks whatsoever from this four-part series that allows us to explore the secrets of one of London's most historic sites.

Tonight's opener takes us behind the scenes with the Yeoman Warders – known to the rest of us as Beefeaters.

There are 37 currently on staff (35 yeomen, two yeowomen), and the Chief Beefeater is retiring, so it's all change at the top. The episode also delves into the history of the Tower's enormous moat – which was once a smelly bog.

MARTIN LEWIS: 10 THINGS YOUR KIDS SHOULD KNOW | ITV 9PM

The 12 times table. The date of the Battle of Agincourt. The capital of Cambodia. The height of the tallest Kardashian (in centimetres). No, don't panic, younger readers: this isn't a quiz that you need to revise for, this is money marvel Martin's guide on the steps that families should be taking right now to help ensure future financial stability for the next generation. So if your folks aren't already planning to watch this one, we recommend drawing a big circle around it on the page opposite. With arrows pointing to it, and perhaps, if you're feeling arty, a doodle of moths flying out of your piggy bank.

THERE SHE GOES | BBC4 10PM

Rosie has become very keen on baths. You might think that's no problem – many parents would be delighted to have a child who would get in the bath voluntarily – but it's getting her out again that's the tricky part. She may be small, but she's surprisingly strong, and she wants to stay with the bubbles. So Emily embarks on a tactical game of 'bubble chess' as she tries to coax her daughter out...

ARROW | Sky One 8PM

Last time we saw Oliver Queen, he was heading to jail after making a deal with the FBI. He's still in the slammer as the new season begins, trying to keep his head down and get out early – but that's not going to be as easy as he hopes.

SEAL TEAM | Sky One 9PM

The elite US armed forces drama returns for a second season tonight. Things get off to a dramatic start as Bravo team is sent to the Gulf of Guinea to rescue American hostages from an oil platform occupied by armed militants.

TREVOR McDONALD AND THE KILLER NURSE | ITV 9PM

Survivors' stories

Don't panic: despite what the title of this programme might be implying, Sir Trevor is perfectly safe. This one-off special is actually about a case that hit the headlines back in Trevor's first year of reading the News At Ten, when 22-year-old nurse Beverley Allitt was convicted of murdering four children in her care and attacking another nine at Grantham Hospital.

After 25 years since her conviction, Trevor sheds new light on the case, where he is granted access to the original police interviews with Allitt, and speaks to some of the people who survived her attacks. He'll also be meeting former Detective Superintendent Stuart Clifton, to find out how he caught the killer nurse.

THE BISEXUAL | Channel 4 10PM

Now that Leila has expanded her sexual horizons, she's in serious need of someone to talk to about everything she's discovered. Gabe's out because it turns out he's not really up for discussing what sex with a man is like, and he suggests Leila chat to one of her female friends about it. Trouble is, she's not actually broached the whole bisexuality thing with them yet – partly because she's still working through her own issues with the word: "It makes you seem disingenuous, like your genitals have no allegiance." Meanwhile, Sadie is also branching out into something very new...

GREY'S ANATOMY | Sky Witness 9PM

We're feeling feverish. We need to see a doctor. Actually, could we see about 12 of them? Preferably dashing attractive ones with tireless devotion to duty and complex personal lives? We absolutely can, because Grey's is back for a 15th(!) season tonight. Jo and Alex's honeymoon suffers some work-related setbacks, while back at Grey Sloan Memorial there's fierce competition for a new position.

LAW & ORDER: SPECIAL VICTIMS UNIT | Universal 9PM

Another long-standing favourite returns tonight as SVU gets its 20th(!) season underway with a two-part special. A 15-year-old boy is too afraid to name his attackers after he is sexually assaulted, and ends up taking justice into his own hands.

911 | Sky Witness 10PM

Meanwhile, this sprightly young newcomer begins its second season of first-responder drama in Los Angeles. It's one of the hottest days of the year, so the emergency services are under even greater pressure, and Buck gets a surprise visit.

FIRST DATES: CELEBRITY SPECIAL FOR STAND UP TO CANCER | Channel 4 9PM

Love bites

An abundance of celeb-filled shows are hitting our screens in aid of Stand Up To Cancer, and among those getting a SU2C makeover is First Dates, in which Fred and his team of Cupids roll out the restaurant's red carpet for the famous faces who have been perfectly paired in a bid to end their search for a soulmate.

Heading down to Chez Fred for some romance and posh nosh are Lady Colin Campbell and Joey Essex – and thank the stars of the lucky kind that in this version, the celebrities will be partnered with the likes of us mere mortals. Can you imagine the conversation between those two?! Joey: "Why's your name Colin when you're not a geezer?" Lady C: "You chippy oik." Shudder.

EMMERDALE 1918 | ITV 8.30PM

For the last in this series marking 100 years since the end of WWI, the doors of the moors are thrown open in the name of hosting a Great War centenary street party. The Dales' own Charlotte Bellamy is assigned with MC-ing the affair (not of the mixing desk variety, you understand), with Mark Charnock in charge of catering, Natalie J Robb on set-dressing duties, and Bhasker Patel taking care of the meet-and-greets. Plus there's a special appearance from John Middleton – village vicar Ashley Thomas for two decades – who returns to deliver a poignant armistice speech.

SALLY4EVER | Sky Atlantic 10PM

The inimitable Julia Davis returns with another gloriously dark comedy – this time about a woman undergoing a sexual reawakening. Sally (Catherine Shepherd, best known as Peep Show's April) has been with partner David for 10 years, leading a stable but unexciting life. After David's proposal goes horribly wrong, Sally embraces a new lease of life and begins an affair with bohemian artist Emma.

BERLIN STATION | More4 9PM

Richard Armitage stars in this 10-part US drama as Daniel Miller, an agent newly arrived at the CIA's Berlin bureau. His mission is to rout out the whistleblower who has been leaking the agency's secrets to the German press...

EMPIRE | 5STAR 10PM

Lucious and Cookie are doing everything they can to launch Treasure into the big time, but without the resources and cash they had at Empire, it's proving to be a tough job. Meanwhile, Kelly Patel picks Empire's new CEO...

STAND UP TO CANCER 2018 | Channel 4 7PM

Three's charity

We've had all sorts of delightful warm-ups across the week, as you will have spotted when you were perusing pages 73 and 85, among others, but tonight it's time for the main event as Alan Carr, Adam Hills and Maya Jama take over Channel 4 for a night of fundraising with the help of some very famous faces.

The evening's entertainment includes the obligatory lesser-spotted couch potatoes taking part in Celebrity Gogglebox, Michael Bubl  buckling himself into the passenger seat for an exclusive Carpool Karaoke with James Corden, Jamie Laing and Spencer Matthews trying to summon as many of their A-list pals as possible to record a charity single, and a tribute to Aretha Franklin – who died of cancer earlier this year.

THE MASH REPORT | BBC2 10PM

The world is an unpredictable place right now. That might make it a worrying time to be a human being in a general sense, but it does at least make it an excellent time to be a satirist. Nish Kumar and his team of sharp-witted correspondents return for a brand-new series of the satirical news show, all ready to take on everything that's happened over the course of the last seven days – or perhaps the things that probably should have happened over the last seven days, but somehow didn't. Either way, we don't imagine for a moment that they'll be short of material to fill tonight's show with.

CHILLING ADVENTURES OF SABRINA | Netflix

Banish all thoughts of the 1990s sitcom with Melissa Joan Hart – this Sabrina comes from the team behind Riverdale, so it brings more darkness and teen angst, but with a lot of heart underneath.

Kiernan Shipka (of Mad Men and Feud fame) shines as the half-witch half-mortal, learning to balance both sides of her nature. Look out for scene-stealing support from Michelle Gomez and Lucy Davis.

CODE 37: SEX CRIMES | More4 9PM

Few phrases carry more red flags in crime dramas than “respectable married man”. Sure enough, when the body of one of the above is found mutilated on a canal bank, Hannah’s team discovers he was leading a double life...

RILLINGTON PLACE | Alibi 9PM

Here’s another chance to see this three-part BBC drama from 2016 about the killings of serial murderer John Christie. The opening episode is told from the perspective of his wife Ethel, played superbly by Samantha Morton.

IN and OUT

We spin soap's revolving door...

IN LOUIS EMERICK (Mike Thornberry, Corrie)

Ever since Liz's ex-lover Mike left the cobbles earlier in the year after his initial three-month stint, fans have been demanding to know when he'll be coming back – and the time is growing near! As Liz finally recognised Jim for the 'creature' that he is, Louis took to Twitter to ask 'Where's Mike Thornberry when you need him?' When Louis' followers told him to get back to Weatherfield quickly to help and support Liz, the star replied, 'On my way'. It can't be soon enough for us!

November

GABRIELLE LEON (Jade Lovell, Casualty)

IN Student nurse Jade will soon arrive in the ED with Marty, played by former EastEnders Shaheen Jafargholi (Shakil Kazemi). "Gabriella is a phenomenal new talent and an utter joy as Jade," says Casualty executive producer Simon Harper. "A character by turns chaotic, funny, bolshy and vulnerable – she has a brilliant comic partnership with Marty, as two student nurses navigating their first months in the NHS. A huge journey ahead of her as she learns the ropes." November

ASHLEY MCGUIRE (Bev Slater, EastEnders)

IN Hayley's mum Bev certainly made quite an impression on Albert Square when she turned up for a visit recently – and it wasn't a particularly good one! As Hayley's due date approaches, the granny-to-be is on her way back. But is a mother's love really what troubled Hayley needs? Or will Bev only add to the young mum's woes?

THE EX FILES!

What are the one-time stars of soap up to now?

CATH'S ONE STRONG MAMMA!

Former Corrie star Catherine Tyldesley has been keeping busy since leaving the Street's Eva behind. She has been showing off her new body following a 12-week intensive training course, while auditioning for new roles. But most of all she's just enjoying being Mum to three-year-old Alfie. "Being a working mum is not easy," she says. "It's incredibly difficult at times. Balance doesn't exist. You just manage the best you can."

MANGEL ON THE ICE

Ex-Neighbours star Mark Little, who played Joe Mangel, is the latest star to sign up for ITV's Dancing On Ice. The actor, who starred in the show from 1988 to 1991 during the show's glory years, also returning in 2005, admits he's worried about this change of career... "There'll be performance anxiety, but it's the reason I love this job," he says. "This fear factor of going out and performing and doing a good job with all of the work we've done."

HAYLEY OPENS UP

In support of World Mental Health Day, former Corrie star Hayley Tamaddon (Andrea Beckett) has spoken up about a panic attack she suffered recently, revealing that the stress over her house purchase led her to spend 'four hours' crying. "I've suffered panic attacks in the past and I knew what was coming," she said before adding, "Tell someone. Don't suffer on your own."

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

If this face leaned down and asked us to marry it, with one quizzical eyebrow sexily raised, we'd lock the doors and phone for a vicar ourselves.

But poor Debbie has lost her Joe, believing him to be a fraud and a liar. Still – we trust that 10-carat diamond ring is some small consolation.

We loved how narked Tim was with Steve for choosing Dev to be his best man. Little Ruby Dobbs would have handled rejection with more maturity!

Bernice really suits a mask. In the nicest possible way, of course.

Ken's reaction to Daniel and Sinead's pregnancy news last year...

...vs Ken's reaction to Daniel and Sinead's pregnancy news this year. He obviously didn't fancy another shove down the stairs!

BULLSEYE!

We can't recall when we last felt as drawn in to a soap episode as the recent instalment of EastEnders – when Ruby slowly explained to Stacey what happened after she left a drunken night out at E20. Meanwhile, Martin's mates told him their 'version' of the evening. It made for disturbing, powerful and thought-provoking viewing – with an astonishing performance from Louisa Lytton at the heart of it. Bravo!

Eat your heart out, J-Lo.

Hollyoaks' World Mental Health Day episode about Cleo's wedding was deeply moving, with a brilliant performance from Nadine Mulkerrin. Great and important work.

Heartbreaking as it was to see Liz in total searing pain... It was almost worth it to see her rip Jim a new one. So it was.

Graham's voice is now so deep, it's a constant low background growl – like having a discontented Staffie stuck behind your sofa.

Corrie was a great advert for 'in sickness and in health' and 'till death do us part' this week... Honestly, kids, marriage really isn't this traumatic!

Walford gangsters ain't what they used to be.
